

GREENS WATCH

Your Resource for Australian Greens Information and Research

HOME | BLOG | RSS | GUESTBOOK | ENDORSEMENTS | MEDIA RELEASES | CONTACT | ABOUT

Greens Policy

Animals
Agriculture
Drugs
Health
Economy

News Articles

Economic Vandals
Domestic Violence
Queensland Turmoil
Greens Toned Down
Bob Brown Follies
Immature Greens
Cynical Greens
Lazy Bob Brown
Naive Defence Policy
Sour Grapes - 1
Sour Grapes - 2
Anti-Science Greens
Climate Change
Nettle Can't Count
\$25 Billion at Risk
Greens Cut to Size
Group or Party?

Links

The Other Cheek
Greens-Liberal Deal

GREENS WATCH BLOG

Greens Plot to Infiltrate Exclusive Brethren

15 September, 2007 7:18

The Exclusive Brethren are a strange little religion that shun technology and don't vote. They are similar in most ways to the peaceful Amish community in Pennsylvania that still wear traditional clothing and ride around in horse and buggy.

None of this bothered anybody, until this previously unknown religion committed one of Australia's most heinous unlegislated crimes.

The crime of political campaigning against the Greens.

If the Greens had their way, criticising them would be a criminal offence, but just like the dictatorial Singaporean Government, they'd couch it in terms of defamation or some other sneaky Greens trickery.

They are just waiting to get the balance of power in the Senate, at which point they'll start strong-arming the new Rudd Labor Government into dissent suppression legislation.

In the meantime, the Greens have been consoling themselves with more Grubby Tactics to silence critics.

THE GREENS WILL INSERT SPIES INTO OPPONENTS

Greens Watch has received information from disgruntled Greens members indicating that Greens party office holders have been quietly approaching party members asking for volunteers to infiltrate the Exclusive Brethren.

The Greens plot to undermine democratic critics by inserting spies into their organisation:

- Members have been approached to test their willingness to join the Exclusive Brethren as spies.
- These recruits would attend an EB meeting claiming to be interested members of the public.
- They would then falsely "convert".
- They would over time gain the trust of the EB congregation.
- Falling to join a congregation, the Greens would instead target EB businesses.

GREENS POLICY

Greens Watch researchers have investigated a number of the Greens kooky policies.

SILENCING DISSENT

Exposing the Greens dirty war on criticism.

EXTREMIST GREENS

Greens Watch looks at Greens members with worryingly extremist views and behaviour.

GRUBBY TACTICS

Examine the dirty tactics employed by the Greens to smear and attack political opponents.

CREEPY GREENS

The Greens have many dangerous and creepy members.

"WACKY" GREENS

The term 'Wacky Greens' is used quite often. Greens Watch investigates.

FREAKS

The Greens are a party supported by freaks.

Expected time to reach the goal is roughly six months

Three key pieces of information are of most interest to the Exclusive Brethren saboteurs:

Discrediting: Any bizarre or unusual activities the EB are involved in would be saved up for release to the media in order to discredit the EB and soften the public up for future anti-Brethren laws.

Suspect Activity: The Greens spy would gather information on any suspect or criminal activity in order to instigate criminal proceedings against them.

Greens: The main goal. Details of the Exclusive Brethren's campaign against the Greens for the upcoming federal election.

Greens Watch hasn't been able to ascertain whether the Greens went past the planning stage, or if, at this very moment, there are Green saboteurs eating away at the naive Brethren from the inside, like a cancer.

Greens Watch has no information of whether elected Greens politicians are aware of this plot, however we will be continuing to investigate.

These are dark days for Australian democracy, however there are always signs of hope.

Responses

Errol	Sep 15, 2007 06:07 PM
If someone did this to the Greens, they'd be screaming blue murder.

Leave a Reply

Name Required

Email (Not public)

Web Site

Message